Q&A

Rebooking? Date change or flight number change under the same conditions (fare, validity, booking class).	Payment method change? The payment method for a flight ticket cannot be changed after purchase.	Refund for upgrade award? Beginning January 21, 2019, refund penalty will be applied differently depending on the time you request the refund. (Based on the request date for a refund) [91 days or more prior to departure] free of charge [Within 90 days before departure] 3,000 miles [After ticket Expiration] 10,000 miles
Reissue? Rebooking causing difference in fare and other changes such as airline/itinerary/stopover/surcharge condition according to date of departure, flight/booking class/extension of validity, etc.	Expense of ticket changes? Ticket changes are subject to the terms and conditions of the ticket fare. For any change made on an outbound flight (any change including date change, etc.), the ticket will be reissued after the exact fare/ and charges (including fuel surcharges) on the date of change have been calculated. Therefore, the difference between the original payment and the changed fare/ and charges as well as reissue charges may need to be paid additionally. When changing a reservation, fares can vary according to the changes in flight number, boarding date, etc. Payment for fare amount difference and reissue charge will be imposed in order to reissue the flight ticket. The reissue charge is non-refundable and can be imposed per bound. If the fare regulation does not permit reissuance, you will need to purchase a new ticket after getting a refund for the original ticket (penalties or service charges may apply). Reissuance to some special fare is not permitted.
